The "FCE Use of English 2" is a practice book intended mainly for intermediate and post-intermediate students, but it is also useful for more advanced students for revision and consolidation.

The aim of the book is to help students to understand and use English grammar through structurally graded material and full-colour pictures. In addition the book offers preparation for the new Cambridge FCE Examination or any other similar examinations.

Oral Development sections.

These appear throughout the book and help students practise the grammar structures presented.

Folder sections.

Each unit is followed by exercises which provide general practice for the new FCE Examination or any other similar examinations. The use of Phrasal Verbs is explained in Appendix 2 and the use of Prepositions is explained in Appendix 3 at the back of the book. There are also "key" word transformation exercises, collocations and idioms.

Practice test sections.

After every unit there is a section which trains students to cope with the new Cambridge FCE Examination Paper 3 - Use of English or any other similar examinations.

Pre-test sections.

After every four units there is a section which familiarises the students with the format and level of difficulty of the actual tests. These appear in the Teacher's Book and revise all structures taught up to this point.

A Teacher's Book accompanies the Student's Book. This contains the answers to the exercises in the Student's Book and presents useful grammar tips as well as three tests in two separate versions.

 53 I relaxed myself at my hotel by taking a
 54 hot bath. At the end of the week I was that sorry to leave,
 55 but I promised to myself I would go back one day.

Satellite TV

0 The arrival of satellite TV has brought up a whole new
00 world of viewing into our living rooms - if we can afford
41 to pay for it, that this is. Major sporting events can now
42 be seen live. Besides of this, a wider variety of sports
43 is now available. The viewer can choose anything
44 from dog-racing up to sumo wrestling. Certain channels
45 show 20 films every day. Again, the choice is enormous-
46 from old classics or to the latest Hollywood releases.
47 For those ones who like to keep informed, 24-hour
48 news it is available at the touch of a button. Children
49 are not forgotten either. A special for junior channel
50 broadcasts out cartoons and children's films. But do we really 51 need all this choice? The most danger is that we will become 52 a population of passive couch-potatoes with square
53 eyes and fingers glued to the remote-control. Of course
54 the choice is a good thing, but viewers should use their 55 ability to select the best and disregard of the rest.

They can be used before a noun or after a linking verb (appear, be, become, get, feel, look, seem, smell, sound, stay, taste). She's got long hair. These roses smell nice. Adjectives can be factual (big, square, blue etc) or express an opinion (nice, beautiful etc).

Order of Adjectives

- When two or more adjectives are used before a noun, they normally go in the following order:

	Opinion	Fact Adjectives							noun
	adjectives	size	age	shape	colour	origin	material	used for/ be about
It's a	lovely	small	old	square	brown	Chinese	wooden	writing	table.

- When there are two or more adjectives of the same type, the more general adjective goes before the more specific. a kind, gentle lady
- Afraid, alike, alive, alone, ashamed, asleep, content, ill, glad etc are never followed by a noun. The students were ashamed of what they had done. (not: ~~the ashamed students~~)

Part 2

For questions 16 - 30, read the text below and think of the word which best fits each space. Use only one word in each space. Write your answers in the answer boxes provided.

Coping with Shyness

Shyness is a problem that is common (0) many people. In (16), according to Mr Zimbardo, a distinguished psychologist at Stanford University, eight (17) of ten people are reported to (18) been shy at some (19) in their lives. Most people (20) have this condition, suffer feelings of discomfort and anxiety at the (21) of meeting others, especially at social gatherings (22) parties. Keeping away from such situations is not really a solution, of course, and if a shy person can manage to overcome their fears they (23) gain a feeling of self-satisfaction as (24) as improving their social life. However, if the case of shyness is severe, when important occasions are missed or a person's social, educational or professional life is affected, (25) the label "shyness" is inappropriate. (26) this stage, it is termed "social phobia". Those suffering (27) this condition are very often bright, talented and sensitive people. But feelings of social isolation, resulting (28) loneliness, can lead to additional problems (29) as alcohol abuse or addiction to medication. Fortunately, a number of treatments are available and come in the form of individual (30) group therapy and training. Therefore, a person who has social phobia has an excellent chance of recovery.

Flight Disaster

I had always been lucky with the holiday flights until I went on a package holiday to Hawaii. The journey out to there was fine, but coming back was a different story. To start it with, the return flight was delayed in two days which was not really a problem as I was having a good time. Unfortunately, when I finally left from Honolulu, the capital, on the first part of the journey, I landed in Los Angeles instead of Chicago. I was taken off the plane and had to stay all overnight in a hotel. The next day I got on a direct flight to London, but only to end up in Minneapolis. I got on another plane where a woman she began to run around wildly and we all had to leave off the plane because we thought she had a bomb. Then there was a storm, so we landed in Boston. I finally got to home, but without one suitcase which was been lost somewhere en route.

Reporting conversations or dialogues

- Everyday conversations and dialogues are a mixture of statements, commands and questions. To report these we use: and, as, adding that, and he/she added that, explaining that, because, but, since, so, and then he/she went on to say, while, then etc or the introductory verb in the present participle form. Exclamations such as: Oh!, Ouch!, Oh no! etc are omitted in Reported Speech.

Direct Speech

"Oh, it's a lovely evening. Shall we go for a walk?" he said.
 "I can't wear it," she said. "It's too tight."
 "Let's take a taxi," he said. "I want to arrive on time."

Reported Speech

- He said that it was a lovely evening and suggested going for a walk.
- She said that she couldn't wear it because it was too tight.
- He suggested that they should take a taxi, explaining that he wanted to arrive on time.

Exclamations - "Yes/No" short answers - Question tags

- Exclamations are replaced in Reported Speech with exclaim, thank, wish, say, cry out in pain etc, give an exclamation of surprise/horror/disgust/delight etc. The exclamation mark becomes a full stop. Exclamatory words such as Oh!, Eek!, Wow!, Oh!, Oh dear!, Well! etc are omitted in Reported Speech. "Aggh!" she said at the sight of the syringe. → She gave an exclamation of horror at the sight of the syringe.
- Yes/No short answers are expressed in Reported Speech with subject + appropriate auxiliary verb or subject + appropriate introductory verb. "Will you tell me?" he said. "No," she said. → He asked her if she would tell him but she said she wouldn't. or He asked her if she would tell him but she refused.
- Question tags are omitted in Reported Speech. An appropriate introductory verb can be used if we want to retain their effect. "She is still at work, isn't she?" he said. → He wondered if she was still at work.

"That's correct, sir," said Carter.

"Did you enjoy it?" the manager asked.

"Well, I didn't manage to see many animals. It was very disappointing," Carter replied.

"Have you got any plans to go back there?" the manager said.

"Well, yes, actually I've already booked tickets for next year. I'm going in February. I think it will be a better time for seeing the animals," said Carter.

Punctuation in Direct Speech

- We capitalise the first word of the quoted sentence. The full stop, the question mark, the exclamation mark and the comma come inside the inverted commas. The comma comes outside the inverted commas only when "he said/asked" precedes the quoted sentence. "She went out," he said. He said, "She went out." "She," he said, "went out." We do not use a comma after the question mark. "Can I speak to you?" I asked. but: I asked, "Can I speak to you?"
- When the subject is a pronoun, it comes before the reporting verb (said, asked etc) but when the subject is a noun, it often comes after "said", "asked" etc at the end or in the middle of the quoted sentence. "He moved house," she said. "He moved house," said Sarah. "He," said Sarah, "moved house." but: She/Sarah said, "He moved house." (not: ~~Said Sarah~~, "He moved house.")
- Each time the speaker changes, we normally start a new paragraph.

137 Rewrite the following as a conversation. Mind the punctuation.

- A Stephen denied having got them lost and refused to take responsibility for their situation. She warned him that if he failed to do this someone else might claim the treasure for themselves. It was at this stage that the diver admitted that the wreck wasn't that old and that the treasure consisted of Monopoly money! ..."I have found

Subjunctive

- The bare infinitive form of the subjunctive is used after certain verbs and expressions to give emphasis. These are: advise, ask, demand, insist, propose, recommend, request, suggest, it is essential, it is imperative, it is important, it is necessary, it is vital followed by (that) + subject. In British English we normally use "should + simple form" instead of the bare infinitive form of the subjunctive. It is vital (that) you deliver the parcel today. (less usual) It is vital that you should deliver the parcel today. (more usual)

Part 2

For questions 16 - 30, read the text below and think of the word which best fits each space. Use only one word in each space. Write your answers in the answer boxes provided.

Tasty Snacks

We (0) love to eat between meals, (16) it's a bar of chocolate after breakfast or a packet of crisps before dinner. But when we think (17) it, most of these "snack" foods are (18) of fat, salt and sugar and thus contain a (19) of calories. Another disadvantage is that after (20) consumed these foods, there is a temptation to eat (21) as they still leave you feeling hungry. But who says snack foods have to be bad (22) you? They can, in (23), be very good for you if you just choose carefully.

One of the best and healthiest snack options is dried fruit. It's really tasty and makes a brilliant, easy-to-eat snack, as (24) as leaving you satisfied. (25) is also a great variety to choose (26) with dried bananas, apricots, grapes and apples available at (27) supermarkets. You can enjoy dried fruit for morning and afternoon breaks, at school or at work, in the car or (28) watching television. Dried fruit also makes the perfect fast food for late-night homework sessions. So next time you fancy (29) sweet, try the healthy option and you'll (30) pleasantly surprised.

Exploring France

0 Every October I like to go to the France for my holidays.
00 Last year I visited the Loire Valley and I had the best
41 two weeks of my life. I had got such good fun I cried when 42 it was time to leave. When I was arrived in Calais
43 the sun was shining and I was glad I had decided to 44 go for camping. There are lots of campsites in the Loire,
45 and I found a small one near of a beautiful castle. King
46 Louis XIV had the castle built in order that to impress a 47 princess he wanted her to marry, but she rejected him for an
48 English Duke. I fell in love with the place at once. The campsite
49 was superb. Although October is late for camping, there
50 were quite a lot of people staying in there. It was 51 highly recommended in my guidebook and a friend of 52 mine had also suggested I go to that particular one site.
53 Most of the other campers were at around my age and I
54 made friends with several of them. Six of us have agreed
55 to meet there again next year for another more great holiday.

The Planet Jupiter

Jupiter is the (0) planet in order of distance from the sun. It takes almost twelve years to complete a whole (56) of the sun. When viewed through telescopes from Earth's (57), the "great red spot" is Jupiter's most (58) feature. This oval spot is (59) 28,000 miles long. It was pale pink in early (60) drawings but, in recent decades, astronomers have recorded a (61) towards a red grey colour. The spot changes position from time to time - sometimes drifting as far as 20,000 miles from where it is (62) seen. Spacecrafts have sent back (63) views of Jupiter's orbiting moons. Jupiter's nearest moon is called "Io" and has (64) volcanoes which are (65) erupting.

Passive Voice / Causative Form 7

Passive Voice

The passive is formed with the appropriate tense of the verb to be + past participle. Only transitive verbs (verbs which take an object) can be put into the passive.

	Active Voice	Passive Voice
Present Simple	He gives lectures.	Lectures are given .
Present Continuous	He is giving a lecture.	A lecture is being given .
Past Simple	He gave a lecture.	A lecture was given .
Past Continuous	He was giving a lecture.	A lecture was being given .
Future Simple	He will give a lecture.	A lecture will be given .
Present Perfect	He has given a lecture.	A lecture has been given .
Past Perfect	He had given a lecture.	A lecture had been given .
Future Perfect	He will have given a lecture.	A lecture will have been given .
Present Infinitive	He should give a lecture.	A lecture should be given .
Perfect Infinitive	He should have given a lecture.	A lecture should have been given .
-ing form	She remembers him giving a lecture.	She remembers a lecture being given .
Perfect -ing form	Having given the lecture, ...	The lecture having been given , ...
modal + be + p.p.	He must give a lecture.	The lecture must be given .

- Present Perfect Continuous, Future Continuous and Past Perfect Continuous are not normally used in the passive.
- Get is used in colloquial English instead of be to express something happening by accident. She'll get killed if she goes on driving like that.

Use

The passive is used: a) when the person who performs the action (agent) is unknown, unimportant or obvious from the context Her flat was broken into yesterday. (by a burglar - obvious agent) b) to emphasise the agent Her wedding dress was delivered to her by the dressmaker herself yesterday. c) to make statements more formal or polite My dress has been ruined. (more polite than saying "You have ruined my dress.") and d) when we are more interested in the action than the agent, such as in news reports, formal notices, instructions, processes, headlines, advertisements etc. A Christmas bazaar will be held tomorrow.

150 Put the verbs in brackets into the correct passive form.

- 1 Holland ...is said... (say) to be one of the prettiest countries in Europe.
- 2 I hate (tell) lies.
- 3 My television (deliver) tomorrow.
- 4 Their telephone (install) yesterday.
- 5 Teachers ought (pay) a higher salary.
- 6 Hotel rooms must (vacate) by 12 noon.
- 7 The villa (sell) by public auction next week.
- 8 She hopes her home (build) by May.
- 9 Heartbreak House (write) by George Bernard Shaw.
- 10 My car (respray) at the moment.
- 11 Hopefully, she (promote) by the end of next month.
- 12 I wish I (teach) how to type when I was at school.

- 14 The wedding reception must (book) a month before the wedding.
- 15 The building (evacuate) ten minutes before the explosion took place.

Changing from Active into Passive

- The object of the active verb becomes the subject in the passive sentence. The active verb changes into a passive form and the subject of the active verb becomes the agent, which is either introduced with "by" or is omitted.

Active Voice
subject	verb	object
John	posted	the letters.

Passive Voice
subject	verb	agent
The letters	were posted	by John.

- By + agent is used to say who or what did the action. She was knocked over by a car. With + instrument / material is used to say what the agent used or after past participles such as coloured, crammed, crowded, filled, flavoured, packed etc. She was killed with a hammer. By + agent is omitted when the agent is unknown, unimportant, obvious from the context or referred to by words such as: someone, people, I, etc. They revealed the truth. → The truth was revealed. ("by them" is omitted)
- Verbs which take who objects (give, offer etc) form their passive in two ways; it is more usual to start the sentence with the person object, not the thing object. They offered Ann a bunch of flowers. → Ann was offered a bunch of flowers. (more usual than: A bunch of flowers was offered to Ann.)
- Verbs followed by a preposition (accuse of, take down etc) take the preposition immediately after them when turned into the passive. She took down the minutes of the meeting. → The minutes of the meeting were taken down.
- In passive questions with who, whom or which we do not omit by. Who gave you this information? → Who were you given this information by?
- Hear, help, make, see are followed by a to-infinitive in the passive. She made me work overtime. → I was made to work overtime. Note that hear, see, watch can be followed by a present participle in the active and passive. We saw her crying. → She was seen crying.

Dinner Parties

Organising a dinner party can (0) a stressful business. Firstly you have to decide (16) you are going to invite and make (17) the guests are going to mix well. It's (18) good inviting people that are either going to sit around (19) small groups and only speak to each (20) or people that are going to hide behind the furniture and not talk at (21) Also you have to ensure they can get to and from your home (22) any problems. Next is organising the food. You want to prepare a meal that is above average standard, but doesn't (23) the earth. It is also wise to ask the guests about their likes and dislikes (24) you invite them, as you don't want to serve up a meal nobody (25) eat. Cooking the meal is important as (26) , because you want it ready at the time you stated. Seating arrangements are important too. You don't want (27) the quiet guests at one end of the table and the talkative (28) at the other. Serving drinks before, during and (29) the meal is always a good way to (30) people to relax and chat. And remember to shut the cat in another room, as you don't want it jumping onto the table searching for a snack!

Caribbean Paradise

0 St Lucia has always been on one of my all-time favourite
 00 holiday destinations. I first discovered its dramatic 41 scenery on my honeymoon before twelve years ago
 42 and have been back such many times since. I generally
 43 stay in the north of the island at where there are 44 many well-equipped villas situated in acres of private 45 tropical grounds along stretches of a white sandy beaches.
 46 The food is excellent too, and combining traditional
 47 local cooking with European sophistication.
 48 During the day there is plenty to do so,
 49 including watersports such like as windsurfing and
 50 snorkelling and beach games like volleyball. Entertainment
 51 is also being provided at night with steel bands and 52 limbo dancing. However, you can spend on many hours
 53 just sitting up outside looking at the spectacular
 54 sunsets and listening to the gentle lapping
 55 of the waves on the shore. This is a real island paradise.

8 Conditionals / Wishes / Unreal Past

Conditionals
	If-clause (hypothesis)	Main clause (result clause)	Use
Type 1 real present	If + any present form (Present S., Present Cont. or Present Perfect)	Future/Imperative can/may/might/must/should + bare inf/Present Simple	true or likely to happen in the present or future
	If you play with matches, you will burn yourself. If you have taken the books, you can start working on your essay. If you see him, tell him to come immediately.
Type 2 unreal present	If + Past Simple or Past Continuous	would/could/might + bare infinitive	untrue in the present; also used to give advice
	If I were you, I wouldn't feel sorry at all. (advice) If she was working more, she would be paid more. (but she isn't working much - untrue in the present)
Type 3 unreal past	If + Past Perfect or Past Perfect Continuous	would/could/might + have + past participle	imaginary situation contrary to facts in the past; also used to express regrets or criticism
	If he had followed his parents' advice, he wouldn't have lost all his money.

- Conditionals are usually introduced by if. Other expressions are: unless (= if not), providing, provided (that), as long as, on condition (that), but for + -ing form/noun, otherwise, or else, what if, supposing, even if, only if. Unless she stops eating like that, she'll have heart problems.
Get up now or else you'll be late for school. Note that when only if begins a sentence, the subject and the verb of the main clause are inverted. Only if you have a ticket will you be allowed in.
- When the if-clause precedes the main clause, we separate the two clauses with a comma.
If you are ill, you must stay in bed. but: You must stay in bed if you are ill.
- In conditionals type 2 in formal English we normally use were instead of was after if for all persons.
If he were/was rich, he would travel round the world.
- We do not normally use will, would or should in if-clauses. If you like this, you can have it. (not: if you will like.) However, will, would or should can be used in if-clauses to make a request or express annoyance, doubt/uncertainty or insistence. If she should call, put her through to me. (doubt/uncertainty - I doubt that she will call ...) If you will/would be quiet, we'll watch the video. (request - Please be quiet.)

Dear Mary,

I just had to write and let you know what a terrible day I've had today. As my neighbour is ill I offered to take her dog for a walk. My neighbour did warn me that he's very energetic but I didn't listen. He dragged me all around the park. What a disaster! He was so excited that he knocked another neighbour off her bicycle. Unfortunately she hurt her leg and she was very angry with me. I shouldn't have taken the dog for a walk. To make matters worse, I had forgotten to lock the front door as we'd left the house in a rush. My house was burgled. Why was I so stupid? I hadn't even renewed our house insurance. My husband keeps going on about it.

Well, hopefully tomorrow will be better.

With love,
Lisa

An unplanned pleasure

- 0 It seemed it was going to be having a sunny day so I
 00 decided to take a walk round the city. It was my first visit,
 41 and I thought that by exploring it on foot I would learn
 42 more about its main attractions. I loved to visiting the 43 ancient sites and, with the help of a guidebook, I got a 44 good idea of the history and culture. I arrived at the 45 main cathedral just as it a rainstorm started. I rushed
 46 inside, only intending to wait for until the weather
 47 had been cleared up, but once I was inside 48 I couldn't believe that what I saw. It was the 49 most beautiful of place I had ever seen. There
 50 must have been a hundred stained glass windows.
 51 I found it be very peaceful, and sat for a long time
 52 just relaxing and was enjoying the tranquillity.
 53 In the end I was too pleased that the rain
 54 had forced on me into visiting the cathedral.
 55 Without planning it, I'd had a most such memorable day.

Nouns

- Nouns are: abstract (happiness, love etc), collective (crowd, group etc), common (radio, chair etc), concrete (doctor, client etc) and proper (James, Tangiers, India etc).
- Gender: Nouns can be masculine (men and boys), feminine (women and girls) and neuter (inanimate things, animals and babies whose sex we do not know). When we refer to ships, vehicles (when regarded with affection or respect) and countries, we consider them feminine. Most nouns remain the same whether they are masculine or feminine (doctor, painter etc). There are some nouns, though, which have different forms according to gender. These forms can be expressed in two ways:
 - by changing the ending (actor - actress, barman - barmaid, conductor - conductress, duke - duchess, emperor - empress, heir - heiress, hero - heroine, host - hostess, policeman - policewoman, prince - princess, waiter - waitress, widower - widow). In modern usage, however, many gendered forms are avoided. We use neutral forms instead. eg. police officer, flight attendant etc.
 - by changing the word (bachelor - spinster, boy - girl, bridegroom - bride, father - mother, gentleman - lady, man - woman, nephew - niece, son - daughter, uncle - aunt etc)

Guidelines on how to treat error correction exercises

- When you have completed the exercise, read the text carefully to see if it makes sense. Keep in mind that some lines are correct.

Study the following examples:

231 Find the odd word out.

- 0 Arriving in a foreign country for the first time can be
- 00 extremely nerve racking. Even if you are on the holiday
- 1 with a large group of friends or with a tour guide to help you
- 2 out, you never know what it might happen. Firstly
- 3 there is the worry of hearing a language which you really
- 4 don't understand at the all. If you are ever in a situation
- 5 where you have to be communicate with someone in a
- 6 foreign language, you may become panic. It never
- 7 really seems to matter that though, because I find
- 8 that sign language always gets me by in these situations.
- 9 For an example, you can use your fingers to show how
- 10 many of items you want from a shop. In a hotel you can
- 11 act out your requests to use the telephone, to eat a dinner
- 12 and take a shower or bath. In fact you could to say that
- 13 this aspect of holidaying at abroad makes it all
- 14 much the more entertaining. After all, it would be very boring
- 15 if the whole world spoke with the same language.

Working on a Ship

- 0 It has always been my own ambition to travel, so when
 00 I was offered a job on a cruise ship last winter,
 41 I jumped out at the chance to fulfill my dream.
 42 I was been told that the ship I would be working on 43 would be to sailing in the exotic waters of the Caribbean,
 44 so I made it sure to pack plenty of light clothes.
 45 However, when I arrived at the port of Southampton,
 46 where the ship would be leaving from, I discovered
 47 from a one of my fellow employees that we would 48 actually be cruising in the freezing waters of the 49 English Channel, in between from the Channel Islands.
 50 I had also been told that I would be supervising
 51 the ship's restaurant, but since as soon as we started
 52 sailing I was ordered to start serving food to people!
 53 By this time I knew about that I had been misled
 54 about the job. There it was nothing I could do, except 55 wish that I had checked lot more carefully before taking it.

Questions / Short Answers

Questions - Short Answers

Yes/No questions (questions which require Yes/No in the answer) are formed by putting the auxiliary or modal verb (be, can, have etc) before the subject. She can do it. → Can she do it? With all other verbs we form Yes/No questions with Do/Does (Present Simple) or Did (Past Simple). He works hard. → Does he work hard? Yes/No questions are asked with a rising intonation. Did you like the party?

Wh-questions begin with a question word (what, which, when, where, who, why, how etc) Who is he? When there is a verb followed by a preposition, the preposition usually goes at the end of the question. In formal English it can be put before the question word. Who did she get married to? (more usual) To whom did she get married? (formal English)

We use questions to ask for information or permission. We can also use them to make offers, requests, suggestions or invitations. Do you know what time the train leaves? (information), May I see the manager? (permission), Would you like me to do the ironing? (offer), Could you show me how to fix the tap? (request), Shall we go to the opera? (suggestion), Would you like to have dinner with me? (invitation)

236 Form questions, then identify the speech situation for each question.

- 1 (you/pick up children from school?)
- 2 (I/use the car today?)
- 3 (you/like/come over to my house?)
- 4 (you/do my shopping tomorrow?)
- 5 (what time/shops close today?)
- 6 (we go/concert this evening?)
- 7 (I borrow/some money?)
- 8 (we/go/the cinema tonight?)
- 9 (you like/go to the beach tomorrow?)
- 10 (I use/your pen for a minute?)

Could you pick up the children from school? (request)

We normally use the following question words to ask about:

people	animals/things	place	time	quantity	manner	reason
What Which (of) Who Whose (possession)	What Which (of)	Where	How long How often What time When	How many How much	How	Why

- Who is used to ask about people. "Who is the author of this book?"
- Whose is used to express possession. "Whose is this car?" "It's Paul's."
- Which is used for people, animals or things, alone or before nouns, one/ones or of. Which bag is yours? Which of these books do you want? Which is normally used when there is a limited choice. "Which is your car - the Mercedes or the Volvo?" (there are only two cars we are talking about - limited choice.) It can also be used with the comparative and superlative. "Which is faster, a Ferrari or a Porsche?" "Which is the tallest building in America?"
- What is used alone or before a noun to ask about things. "What can I say?" "What books do you enjoy reading?" What is used when there is an unlimited choice. "What kind of food do you enjoy eating?" (there are many kinds of food to choose from - unlimited choice) What can also be used in the following expressions: What ... look like? (asking for a description of physical appearance), What ... for?, What colour ...?, What size?, What kind/sort?, What time?, What is he like? (asking for a description of character), What is it used for? etc "What is your brother like?" "He's very nice." "What does Jack look like?" "He's very tall and thin." "What colour is his hair?" "Dark brown."
- What and which are sometimes both possible. What/Which fruit shall we have for dessert?

237 Fill in: who, whose, which, what, where, how long, how often, what time, when, how many, how much, how or why.

Question Tags

- Question tags are short questions added to the end of a statement to ask for confirmation of, or agreement with, the statement. They are formed with an auxiliary verb and the appropriate personal pronoun. They take the same auxiliary verb as in the statement if there is one, otherwise they take do/does (Present S.) or did (Past S.). He is in hospital, isn't he? She didn't come, did she?
- Question tags can be said with a rising intonation when we are not sure and expect an answer, or a falling intonation when we are sure and don't really expect an answer.
She is lying, isn't she? (not sure) He bought a new car, didn't he? (sure)
- A positive statement is followed by a negative question tag, and a negative statement is followed by a positive question tag. She sings well, doesn't she? He won't tell, will he? Note that everyone/someone/anyone/no one form their question tags with an auxiliary verb + they. Everyone attended the meeting, didn't they?

● Study the following question tags.

Do you feel the cold? If the answer is “yes”, then (0) not try a cold bath or shower? This unusual advice (16) from a natural health therapist in Germany (17), for the last 30 years, has (18) studying the effects of cold water. Most people are brought (19) to believe that it's important to (20) warm during the cold weather, with extra clothing and heaters, (21) research shows that the opposite is true. At a German health centre, hundreds of visitors follow this advice by taking their first cold bath at 6 am, and come out feeling (22) more relaxed. This is (23) to the fact that the cold water increases blood sugar levels, the heart beat and breathing rate. New research at the medical centre of Hanover has (24) that those taking daily cold baths have 50% (25) colds and breathing problems than those who don't. Studies (26) London have also proven that (27) treatment will help protect (28) heart attacks. For those people who find the idea of such behaviour unthinkable, then regular exercise such (29) running or cycling is a good alternative. So, next time you're suffering from the cold, don't sit and complain, (30) action!

Mountain Climbing

0 The most frightening experience in my life happened
 00 to me a few years ago while I was been at university. I was 41 a member of the rock climbing club, and every weekend
 42 we would go for climbing in the Welsh mountains. One
 43 Saturday we set off in fine spirits - the sun was shining
 44 and there it was not a cloud in the sky. We began to climb
 45 the mountain, and by lunchtime we had being managed to 46 get at least halfway that up. While we were eating our 47 sandwiches and mint cake we noticed some dark clouds
 48 forming up in the distance. We weren't worried,
 49 however, so we continued on with our way. This turned out
 50 to be a big mistake - the clouds got more closer and closer,
 51 then it began to snow. We tried to get down the mountain,
 52 but the snowstorm became so much bad that we got stuck.
 53 Eventually we were rescued, but not before that we had spent
 54 half the night up there, cold, miserable and sure about that
 55 we were all going to die. I hope it will never happens again.

12 Inversion / Emphatic Structures

Inversion

We can invert the subject and the auxiliary verb in the sentence to give emphasis. If there is no auxiliary verb, we use do/does (Present S.) or did (Past S.) in the interrogative. This happens:

- after certain expressions when they are placed at the beginning of a sentence. These are: Barely, Hardly (ever) ... when, In no way, In/Under no circumstances, Little, Never (before), Nor/Neither, No sooner ... than, Not even once, Not only ... but also, Not since, Not till/until, Nowhere, Only by, Only in this way, On no account, On no occasion, Only then, Rarely, Scarcely (ever) ... when, Seldom etc. Under no circumstances should you open the door. Seldom do we see him these days. Only after, only by, only if, only when, not since, not till/until used at the beginning cause inversion of the subject and the auxiliary verb in the main clause. Only when they had left, did he burst into tears.
- in conditionals when should, were, had (Past Perfect) are placed at the beginning of the sentence. Note that "if" is omitted. Should you come early, we'll go to the theatre. (If you should come, ... - Type 1) Were I you, I would see a doctor. (If I were you, ... - Type 2) Had he been asked, he would have helped. (If he had been asked, ... Type 3)
- after so, such, to such a degree (in result clauses) placed at the beginning of a sentence. So short is she that she can't reach the shelf.
- after as, neither/nor, so to express agreement. "He likes trout." "So does his wife." ("So" is used to agree with an affirmative sentence) "She doesn't like fish." "Neither/Nor do I." ("Neither/Nor" are used to agree with a negative statement) His schoolmates admire him, as do his teachers.

In the following structures we invert the subject and the main verb.

- after adverbs of place. Here comes Ann! (but: Here she comes!) Here is her bag! (but: Here it is!)
- in Direct Speech when the reporting verb comes after the quote and the subject is a noun. "What awful weather!" said Mary. ("Mary said" is also possible). (but: What awful weather!" she said.)

 41 most of us are quite enough happy to go
 42 somewhere warm and lie on to a beach all day,
 43 there are some people who can't sit still for 44 more than an hour without be getting bored.
 45 These are the kind of people who they are now
 46 choosing to go on adventure holidays,
 47 where there are almost too many of things
 48 to do! Activities on offer include the horse-riding,
 49 rock-climbing, windsurfing and scuba diving,
 50 depending on where the holiday centre is being.
 51 The price for a holiday of this kind is usually 52 about the just same as that of a "normal"
 53 holiday, but to be warned - adventure holidays are 54 only recommended for those who want to return from 55 their holiday bit more exhausted than when they left.
